

STETSON UNIVERSITY

July 30, 2015

To whom it may concern,

I am very pleased to recommend Nicole Valentine and NV advertising as an outstanding agency for both the creation of marketing materials and media buying. Stetson University College of Law uses NV Advertising for our part-time information session campaigns. She combines the current use of innovative technology, media buying experience, negotiation skills, and award-winning creativity. In addition, Nicole is also fluent in Spanish both reading and writing and adds that additional element to help us reach broader audiences.

Since we began using to call in this capacity three years ago participation— levels at these information sessions continues to climb. I fully anticipate you will experience the same results when working with Nicole.

Frank Klim

Executive Director of Communications

Stetson University College of Law